Destined To Be Warriors: Commentary on Ephesians Benjamin W Brodie

All Christians are destined to be warriors. Some will become men of steel; others will become inept slackers. That status depends on two defensive weapons: the filling of the Spirit and Bible doctrine. The selection of spiritual combatants was made in eternity past by the Triune God. He called them to engage in an unceasing conflict. Battles are fought every day, some fierce encounters, some mopping-up actions. Our enemy is powerful. We need help. Paul warns his stumbling recruits to recover from their mistakes and begin the process of mental and spiritual rehabilitation necessary for them to follow their CO, Jesus Christ. They have a lot to learn and apply before they can call themselves true warriors. This commentary includes an exegetical display of each verse for those who want to dig deeper in the biblical languages, as well as an easily accessible tool for those who want to understand Ephesians.
