The Suicide Note Bob Ottalagano

In a time when money is lacking, foreclosures are increasing, bullying in the schools are epidemic, marriages have become battlegrounds, we all get to a point where we don't want to go on living one more day.

This is the story of one man's struggle to deal with the loss of almost everything he owned. Every time he thought things couldn't get worse, he was faced with another challenge.

With the loss of family members, his job, his home, his most prized possessions, and eventually his health he comes to the conclusion that he had to end the life that has brought him nothing but pain.

Living a life much like Job from the Bible, will his story end with a restoration and increase of all he has lost?

As you read the pages of this book, decide if you would make the same choices this man makes. How would your own story end if you couldn't see a "Happy Ending" in sight?
