Not illustrated. 1881 Excerpt: ...the county seat. In July, 18-14, the jail was attacked by a mob, by whom Smith was murdered when in the act of escaping from a window. He was shot, and subsequently riddled with bullets. This created intense excitement among the people--culminated in a crisis. An effort was made to drive the mob across the river. An attack was made upon the town of Nauvoo in 1845, so formidable,. that a general exodus among its inhabitants was the result. The historian, Lossing, gives a vivid account of the final exodus from Nauvoo, and their pilgrimage to Salt Lake, where they built their New Jerusalem, and still abide. "In September, 1846, the last lingering Mormons at Nauvoo, Illinois, where they had built a splendid temple, were driven away at the point of the bayonet, by 1,600 troops. In February, preceding, some sixteen hundred men, women and children, fearful of the wrath of the people around them, had crossed the Mississippi on the ice, and traveling with ox teams and on foot, they penetrated the wilderness to the Indian country near Council Bluffs, on the Missouri The remnant, who started in autumn, many of whom were rich. men, feeble women and delicate girls, were compelled to traverse the same dreary regionThe united host, under the guidance of Brigham Young, then temporal and spiritual leader, halted on the broad prairies of Missouri the following summer, turned up the virgin soil and planted. Here leaving a few to cultivate and gather for wanderers who might come after them, the host moved on, making the wilderness vocal with preaching and singing. Order marked every step of their progress, for the voice of Young, whom they regarded as a seer, was to them as Soon after Nauvoo was deserted by the Mormons, the winds hurled this temple to the ground. The ston...
